

Announcing the Amazing MagicFuse

Paragon's exciting MagicFuse kiln fires inside a microwave oven to glass fusing temperatures. This is the perfect way to introduce yourself and your loved ones to the amazing world of glass fused jewelry.

Instant gratification

Place the kiln inside a microwave oven and turn on the power. The kiln will reach 1500°F (815°C) in about 5 - 8 minutes. (Firing time depends on the wattage and brand of the microwave oven.)

Beautiful colors

Create beautiful glass fused pendants and earrings. Discover how the heat magically transforms glistening dichroic glass and the vast palate of stained glass colors that are available from your supplier. Enjoy hours of creative entertainment with your whole family.

Within an hour after you begin fusing, the glass will be cool to the touch. Experiment with new designs in the MagicFuse before filling your larger kiln with production loads.

Learning to fuse glass

Firing the MagicFuse requires skill. Because the kiln fires so rapidly, glass pieces should be limited in size to 2 layers of 1 ½" x 1 ½" or smaller. Larger sizes or additional layers of glass must be pre-heated for 5 minutes at a 50% power setting on the microwave. Otherwise the glass will break.

The glass must be free of glue, grease, and fingerprints. The rapid firing of these contaminants can cause the glass to break.

Firing times may vary even within the same microwave oven. For this reason, check the glass a minute or two before it is done. Then add more time and, if necessary, check it again. Remove the kiln when the glass has fused just the way you had envisioned.
